Form 10

Exhibit 99.1

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Critical Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition, page 69

1. We note in your response to prior comment 3 that you believe the software-related components do not meet any of the scope exceptions under ASC 985-605-15-4. Please describe the accounting literature that supports your conclusion that the telephony and laser products are software-related components. That is, identify the paragraphs that support your conclusion that the tangible products or hardware in your arrangements are subject to ASC 985-605. Further, you state that, “these elements have complex customized interfaces that allow them to communicate with, and function together with, the DMS.” You also state that you do “not sell telephony and laser products without the DMS; [you] only sell them as part of a packaged solution.” That is, your response suggests that the software and hardware function together to deliver the tangible product’s essential functionality and thus the DMS solution would be outside the scope of ASC 985-605. Please advise.

2. We note in your response to prior comment 4 that you record transactional revenues at gross given that you are the primary obligor. Please revise your disclosure to indicate your basis for gross or net presentation.

Please contact Amanda Kim, Staff Accountant, at (202) 551-3241, or Stephen Krikorian, Accounting Branch Chief, at (202) 551-3488 for accounting and financial statement matters. You may contact Edwin Kim, Staff Attorney, at (202) 551-3297 or me at (202) 551-3735 with any other questions.

Sincerely,

/s/ Barbara C. Jacobs
